HEALTH CENTER HERE OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Celebration of the 15th anniversary of the dedication of the Torrance Health Center building was the occasion of an after-hour tea last Friday afternoon when 41 members of the staff gathered in the Center to reminisce over their work during the past decade and a half.

Realizing the need for adequate public health facilities in a central location, the City of Torrance bought the property on which the health center building stands in 1932, and presented it to Los Angeles County. Since the erection of the building, the park-like location has been landscaped, the site and building now being one of the most beautiful of the 21 health center locations throughout the county.

At the time of the dedication of the new building as a health and welfare center, the eighth of its kind in the Los Angeles county health department's decentralized program, there were approximately 20 employees in the Torrance district.

Prior to the occupancy of the local building, public health needs were administered from headquarters in the Redondo Beach City Hall under the direction of Dr. Henry C. Smiley, district health officer. Dr. Smiley, who took charge in the new building, is still health officer for the Torrance district.

Sub-center officers are, however, still maintained in the Redondo Beach City Hall. Mrs. Ruth Hopkins is receptionist and public health nurses and sanitarians are assigned to this area.

With the exception of the emergency hospital which was discontinued in 1932, the basic services remain essentially the same. Chest clinics concerned with tuberculosis control are still in operation. They are held every Tuesday under the supervision of Dr. Lucie Otto.

Dr. Gerald Miller is at the Center Monday through Friday for dental appointments. All parents may bring their small children in for an initial examination and instruction in the care of their teeth, but only those parents who cannot afford private dental care may receive continued service for their children. Patients who attend the prenatal clinics each Wednesday morning are also eligible for dental care. Volunteer physicians from the Harbor General hospital assist in prenatal supervision.

One of the increasingly popular services of the District is that of the child health conferences for mothers of well children. These mothers may consult with the pediatrician on such problems as child management, health habits and diet. Vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus are also available at the conferences.

These conferences are held on Monday afternoon in the Torrance health center, Thursday morning at the Child Care Center in Redondo Beach, and Thursday afternoons at the Community Center in Lawndale. Dr. Hyde Leland conducts the two latter conferences and physicians of Harbor General hospital serve the Torrance group.

Another service available in the district is that of instruction for expectant mothers. Soon-to-be mothers are advised regarding nutrition, layette and the care of the new baby. Mrs.

Mary Ulmer of the Gardena area is the public health nurse-instructor.

Sanitation for the entire area is supervised from the Torrance office by Dave Colfelt, area chief sanitarian. Assisting him are Emil D. Berti in the Gardena, Lawndale, North Redondo and Manhattan Beach areas; W. C. Davidson, Redondo and Hermosa Beaches and the Victor precinct; Doyle V. Davison, Torrance, Lomita, Palos Verdes and La Rambla precinct, and James J. Gannon, Hawthorne and El Segundo.

George O. Isaacs is the dairy and dairy products inspector and Charles L. Shetler is communicable disease inspector.

One of the special programs added within the last 15 years is that of medical social service. Miss Lorna Thompson is the "MSS" director, assisted by Mrs. Aileen Colwell. These workers consult with patients registered in the clinics of the district on medical-social and emotional problems.

Ten General Music Classes In School Here

There are ten general music classes in Torrance Junior High School, conducted by Miss Merlyn Anderson and George Zavislian. The music period comprises the studying of great musicians and their compositions, singing the various types of memory or home songs, and the playing of records to familiarize the pupils with various types of music. The objective is to build a general knowledge of music.

In addition to the general music classes free instrumental instruction was started in the Torrance Junior High in October. The following students take one lesson a week from Miss Merlyn Anderson: Vidal Rodriguez, Laveda Lawson, Kazuko Hasegawa, Amy Tamura, Lois Blake, Dolores de la Cruz, Amy Okazaki, Beverly Rogers, violin; Genevieve Roberts and Josephine Perez, cello; Janie Moffatt, string bass; Isabel Fennie, French horn; Marian McDonald, French horn; Fennie Flores, trombone; Richard Valdez, baritone horn; Barbara Mondor, clarinet; Pat Callahan, Bill Gray, Charles Gadsden, Michael Conner, Tommy Long, Gerald Wilcox, drums; James Miller, cornet.

Larry Kleinhans, John Meyers, Emmett De Bennett, Paul Marcoux take free bass horn lessons from Abe Milstein, director of music for the Torrance City Schools, and Harold Holmes, Ronnie Turner and John Green are taking clarinet lessons. Ronnie Gendreau studies saxophone under Milstein's direction.

USE CLOTH AND WATER

The first requisite of safe motoring is the driver's ability to see where he is going, to see clearly and without eye-strain. Peering through dirt-encrusted glass, which reflects lights in a thousand dancing, puzzling, straining angles is not conducive to safety, and why a motorist should tolerate such a condition, as so many do, when a soft cloth and water will eliminate it, is difficult to understand.

Chief Stroh Cautions Vets On Danger Of War Trophies

Following the death of a 12-year-old boy in Fresno who was killed when he tried to pry open a 60mm mortar shell, Chief of Police John Stroh today warned residents, and war veterans particularly, of the danger of keeping and handling "war trophies."

Stroh classified as "souvenirs of death" such keep-sakes as grenades, land mines, bazooka shells and other projectiles, fuses, demolition caps, pyrotechnics and large caliber ammunition, and pleaded with persons having any war trophies to contact authorities in this area and have them rendered harmless.

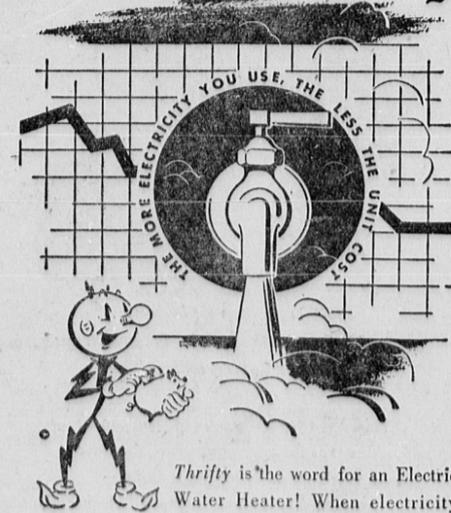

Persons possessing or having the knowledge of the whereabouts of any potentially dangerous souvenirs should contact the following who will, without cost, disarm and return to the owner any weapons or ammunition: Sheriff's Crime Laboratory, 508 North Spring street, Los Angeles; U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot, Seal Beach, or U. S. Army Ordnance, Ft. MacArthur.
